

TERMS & CONDITIONS

All class registrations are subject to the following:

- Class fees ($350+shipping) are required to be paid at the time of registration. Due to nonstandard box size, all leather kits will be shipped via UPS.
- Purchases will be completed on the Simply Classic website (kit color is selected at checkout on a first-come, first-served basis).
- In the unlikely event that a class must be canceled by Simply Classic, each student will receive a 100% refund.
- Failure to attend any portion of the class does not entitle the student to a full or partial refund.
- Cancellations (which must be emailed to chris@simplyclassic.net) within the first three days of the registration date will be refunded their full payment minus a 10% administration fee.
- Refunds for cancellations after the first three days of registration but before we mail your class kit (two weeks before the class start date) will be subject to Simply Classic's ability to fill your spot. If we can find a replacement, you will receive a full refund minus a 20% administration fee. If we are unable to fill your spot (we will do our very best to do so), there will be no refund.
- All live Zoom sessions are recorded. Students registered in each class will have access to the recordings in their Thinkific student portal. These are private videos and must not be shared.
- Simply Classic retains the right to use any of these recordings for promotional use as well as potential future resale (no compensation will be given to the individuals captured in said recordings). Please turn your webcam off if you do not wish to be recorded.

- Screenshots will occasionally be taken during the live Zoom sessions. Simply Classic reserves the right to use those photos for promotional purposes (no compensation will be given). If you do not wish for your still image to be used, please advise us in writing prior to your class start date.
- No participant is granted permission to take screenshots or recordings of lesson videos, Zoom sessions, or class discussions without prior verbal and written consent from the instructor and fellow classmates.
- Although we adore seeing all your makes in the Simply Classic Inspiration Facebook Group, please keep course discussions and progress photos private to the Thinkific class portal, as the Banda Bag is an exclusive pattern that will never be released to the general public. We can't wait for you to show off your finished bag, though!
